MAGNOLIA

One of the prettiest small weddings this year was that of Mr. Marmon Magoon and Miss Heleine A. Holt, which was solemnized on Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. Cushingham, on Lunalilo street. It was a home wedding with none but intimate friends and relatives of the two families, making a company of 150 guests. The large, old-fashioned home with its great rooms lent itself very beautifully to the decoration, which was done entirely in white and green. White roses, white jasmine and white chrysanthemums and orchids were lavishly used. The spot where the ceremony was performed was a bower of blossoms and feathery greenery.

To the softly-played strains of the wedding march the bride and groom entered, the bride a pretty, winsome girl leaning on the arm of Mr. William O. Smith, who gave her into the keeping of her future husband. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Leopold Knoll of the Episcopal church.

The bride was gowned in a tulle chiton over shimmering cloth of silver tulle and wore a veil and carried a shower bouquet of white orchids, white gardenias and white sweet peas. Miss Irene Holt was her sister's bridesmaid, while Mr. Eaton Magoon supported his brother.

Dancing was enjoyed and a delicious supper served.

The happy couple quietly slipped away to Pearl City to spend their honeymoon at Mrs. Caroline Robinson's home. They will go to Hawaii for a month. After returning to town they will make their home at Kahala.

MRS. DERWENT KENNEDY HONORED

Mrs. James A. Kennedy was a luncheon hostess on Friday of this week, entertaining in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Derwent Kennedy, who is here on a visit.

MR. AND MRS. W. CHAMBERLIN'S DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. W. Chamberlin, who are visitors in Hawaii and guests at the Moana, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Duryea, Miss Folds and Miss Crumden on Thursday evening at dinner. Dancing followed.

THE PLEASANTON HOTEL AFFAIRS

The Pleasanton Hotel, despite the heavy downpour of Monday evening, was crowded with guests who came to enjoy the music, dancing and the dinner. After dinner, dancing on the lani was an attraction indulged in by scores of guests.

Sunday evening the Corelli trio will play during the dinner hour and during the rest of the evening.

MR. AND MRS. STELLWAGON ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. Stellwagon entertained at the Pleasanton hotel on Monday evening for Mr. and Mrs. George Curry and Mr. and Mrs. H. Beatty.

MR. AND MRS. McQUESTION GIVE A DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. F. McQuestion were dinner host and hostess on Monday evening at the Pleasanton hotel, where they are guests.

Mr. and Mrs. McQuestion's guests were Capt. and Mrs. Robert R. Calender, Capt. and Mrs. Robert Duenner and Mrs. Carruth of New York City. Dancing was enjoyed on the lani after dinner.

"ESTHER" IS GIVEN AS A BENEFIT

Preparations are moving forward with interest for the presentation of "Esther" at the Hotel April for the benefit of St. Peter's school.

The closing of the Opera House has necessitated the use of Davies Memorial hall.

The installation of raised seats in the rear of the hall has greatly increased the seating capacity as well as made a good view of the stage a surety.

The Bijou management has again been good enough to promise scenery and of a much more elaborate kind than before.

The costumes are to be gorgeous, many good friends helping Mrs. Pascoe by sending her pretty things to use.

The absence of Miss Mary Woon, who is in China, and of Miss Fah Chung, who is studying at Harvard, has made necessary some changes in the cast.

The title role, "Esther," will be sung by Miss Ruth Yap, who will be remembered as the wee Japanese maid in the "Feast of Little Lanterns," who always "had something up her sleeve."

The part of Hawaii will be taken by Mr. Eu Sue Kong.

The proceeds of the performance are to purchase a piano for St. Peter's school, of which Mrs. Jessica Pascoe is principal.

MRS. EDWARD TENNEY A LUNCHEON HOSTESS

Mrs. Edward Tenney entertained a company at luncheon on Tuesday of this week. Covers were placed for 12 guests.

MISS LAURETTA BOYD HONORED

Miss Lauretta Boyd was the guest of honor at a dinner given on Tuesday evening by Miss Dorothy Guild. A low bowl filled with yellow cornucopia ornaments the table. Miss Guild's guests were Miss Lauretta Boyd, Miss Edith Gibb, Miss Ruth Soper, Mr. Ernest Podmore, Mr. Rob Steever, Mr. A. Budge and Mr. Roy Patten. Cards furnished the evening's diversion.

Mrs. James L. Coke will be a luncheon hostess on Monday of next week, honoring Mrs. Marion Dowsett Worthington.

MRS. B. F. DILLINGHAM A LUNCHEON HOSTESS

Mrs. Benjamin F. Dillingham honored Mrs. Joseph Adams on Tuesday of this week by giving a very charming luncheon at the Country Club. A handsome basket of red gladioli was used to ornament the center and radiating from this were long sprays of the same pretty flower, which at the table's edge were lost in a cloud of pink tulle. Yellow coleus were blossoms which called for a deal of admiration.

The corsage bouquets of white gardenias and fuchsia were attractive. Mrs. Dillingham's guests were Mrs. Joseph Adams, Mrs. Charles Adams, Mrs. Charles M. Cooke, Mrs. Rice of Boston, Mrs. L. Tenney Peck, Mrs. A. N. Locke, Mrs. John Walker, Mrs. Edward D. Tenney, Mrs. Sanford B. Dole, Mrs. Walter Dillingham, Mrs. John Erdman, Mrs. Harold Dillingham, Mrs. Gerrit Winder, Mrs. Walter Frear, Miss Dillingham and Miss Frear.

THE COUNTRY CLUB DINNER

This evening at the Country Club the regular Saturday evening dinner-dance will be held. As it is St. Patrick's day the decorations will all be in green.

MRS. VICTOR HOUSTON A DINNER HOSTESS

Mrs. Victor Houston entertained eight guests at the Country Club on Tuesday evening at dinner.

Mrs. M. A. Vail was a luncheon hostess on Tuesday of this week entertaining 18 guests at the Country Club.

Mrs. Mason Mitchell of Samoa is a visitor in Honolulu, the house-guest of her sister, Mrs. Fred Williams. Mrs. Mitchell is the wife of the American consul of Samoa and will remain in Honolulu until the marriage of her niece, Miss Electa Williams, to Mr. B. Girdler.

From here Mrs. Mitchell will go to Panama and then to New York and from there to her home in Samoa.

Among the several handsome affairs of the week just passed, the luncheon given by Mrs. C. Frederick Kohl at the Burlingame Club as a compliment to Miss Nellie Melba and Mrs. Charles Wright of Philadelphia stands out as one of the most artistic entertainments in a long time. Being given on Washington's birthday, the decorations were characteristic of the day. The clubrooms were adorned in flags and other patriotic emblems, and the luncheon table itself, at which about 40 women were seated, was done in red, white and blue, with miniature hatchets tied with sprays of cherries, were used as place cards. Parasols and baskets of spring flowers also adorned the table.—San Francisco Examiner.

Mrs. Talbot Walker was hostess at an impromptu luncheon for a group of members of the Mardi Gras court Wednesday at the St. Francis Hotel. Among her guests were Mrs. Charles Keeney, Mrs. Horace Hill, Miss Helen Keeney and Miss Gertrude Hopkins. A large number of others who had attended the great function of the evening before lunched there in similar impromptu fashion.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Mrs. Harry Holbrook entertained a coterie of friends at a prettily appointed luncheon a week ago Thursday. Her home on Pacific avenue was the setting for the affair. Among those who shared her hospitality were Mesdames Thomas Eastland, Andrew Welch, Wakefield Baker, Joseph Oliver Tobin, Alexander Hamilton, Samuel Knight and Charles Templeton Crocker and Miss Ethel Hager.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Scott left on Wednesday for Southern California, accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Jackling in their private car. Mr. and Mrs. Scott will remain in Southern California for a week. Mr. and Mrs. Jackling will go on to Arizona, where the former has extensive business interests.—San Francisco Chronicle.

MME. MELBA IN CALIFORNIA
Madame Melba, who arrived from Honolulu Tuesday, has gone to Burlingame, where she is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Crocker at "New Place." She will be here until after the mardi gras ball next week, and will be entertained extensively in San Francisco and on the peninsula, where she has hosts of friends. She will go to Los Angeles from Burlingame, as she is giving a concert there on February 27. Madame Melba was in California for several months of last year and enjoyed an extended visit with Mrs. C. Frederick Kohl, whose guest she will be again on her return from the south.—San Jose (Cal.) News.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED
With the return of Miss Myrtle Marling from Honolulu comes the announcement of her engagement to Eugene F. Fowler of Lincoln. Miss Marling is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Marling of Newcastle, and is well known in Placer County circles. Eugene Fowler is assistant manager of the Silva-Berghold Company of Newcastle and is prominent in the nursery business in this vicinity. The wedding will take place in the early spring.—Auburn (Cal.) Republican.

Miss Violet Makee is an attractive visitor in San Francisco at present. She is a Honolulu girl, who has been East for several months, and who will sail for home on March 6. She has been entertained by Mrs. Charles Templeton Crocker, Mrs. Henry Foster Dutton and Mrs. Harry MacFarlane.—San Francisco Bulletin.

Mrs. George W. Emmons and her daughter, Miss Gladys Emmons, sailed on the Matsoula this week for Honolulu for a visit of a month or two. Unexpectedly obtaining desirable steamer reservations, they hastened their departure. Instead of waiting until later.—San Francisco Examiner.

Mr. and Mrs. George Uhl, who left San Francisco in January for Honolulu on a trip that was taken for the benefit of the former's health, are so much enjoying their stay that they have decided to defer their return for another month.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Mrs. J. R. K. Nuttall was hostess at dinner Thursday evening when she complimented Rear-Admiral and Mrs. William F. Fullam. This affair took place at her Jackson street home.—San Francisco Chronicle.

The word "carpet" was in later medieval times used to describe draperies as well as the stuffs which covered floors and seats.
